A GENUINE SURPRISE.

On Thursday evening last, by a preconcerted arrangement, of which it is suspected Mr. E. B. Gage was not wholly ignorant, an informal gathering was planned as a compliment to Judge and Mrs. Wm. H. Barnes, who were here from Tucson as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gage. It was called a surprise party, but the only ones who seemed surprised were those who went up on Grand Central hill to confer that sometimes questionable distinction. For be it known that a surprise is not always a pleasant one.

In this case, however, it seemed to be mutually agreeable, and the surprise consisted in the elaborate preparations which had been made to entertain the guests. The spacious mansion was brilliantly lighted, the parlors thrown open, and Prof. Baron and the Trevillian orchestra were found to be present to add to the pleasure of the occasion.

With dancing, conversation and caids, the evening was delightfully passed. Cakes, ices and champagne were served in abundance, and every effort was made by the worthy host and hostess to make the intruders feel at ease after the first effects of the surprise had worn away.

Nothing was left undone, and the result was that the affair was voted the most jovial, pleasant and successful ever held in Tombstone. Judge and Mrs. Barnes expressed themselves as delighted with the good natured informality of the people here, and regret to cut their visit short.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Durkee, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Bayless, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Howe, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Shattuck, Mr. and Mrs. Kirt Hart, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Cheyney, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Leach, Mr. and Mrs. L. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Metcalf, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Reppy; Mrs. M. M. Sherman, Mrs. Ben Goodrich, Mrs. G. E. Goodfellow, Mrs. G. N. Gage, Mrs. Robt. Eccleston, Mrs. Fred Castle; the Misses Herring, the Misses Goodrich, Miss Easton, Miss Taylor, Miss Hart, Miss Sneed, Miss Bootes; Col. Wm. Herring, Messrs. H. Herring, Dailey, Castle, Blinn, Williams, Redstreak and Bayless.

Attorney at Law,

Since Mr. J. H. White, superintendent of the Contention mine, has been back, he has had a number of men at work in the mine straightening up things for the purpose of keeping them in shape. It is said they encountered this week a stringer or ore near the surface that will assay a thousand ounces to the ton. It is believed by many that the Contention is far from being worked out above water.
